Come out and help the Refuge and the Monongahela National Forest restore some of the ancient, high elevation forest by planting red spruce. We will start with a discussion of the historic role of this forest, and why we are working with partners to restore it. Then we will carpool to the work site and plant some trees! Trees will be provided by WV Highland's Conservancy. Bring water. Dress for the weather, in layers. This program is sponsored by the Canaan Valley National Wildlife Refuge, WV Highland's Conservancy and the Monongahela National Forest. More hands are always welcome. Please join us!
